What Makes the Super Light H2 Special?

The Super Light H2 stands out due to its exceptional build quality and versatility. The use of high modulus carbon fiber for both the frame and rod provides unparalleled stiffness and strength, ensuring durability without compromising on weight. Weighing in at just 72g, this racket offers lightning-fast maneuverability, allowing you to react swiftly to your opponent's moves.

With a well-balanced design featuring a balance point of 302mm, the H2 offers excellent control and power distribution. The moderate racket hardness makes it suitable for various play styles, whether you prefer aggressive smashes or precise drop shots. The handle's G1 grip ensures a comfortable and secure hold, reducing fatigue during long matches.

When Is the Super Light H2 Best Used?

This racket is ideal for both club-level and professional players who seek a reliable, high-performance tool to enhance their game. Its all-around capabilities make it perfect for competitive matches and intensive training sessions. The wide tension range (18-30LBS) allows for customized stringing to suit your personal preference, further optimizing your performance on the court.
